Happy Geek Week

Did you miss school? I am sure you did! This week is dedicated to all the geeks who love to read, do math, etc.

#Geeks Are Cool!

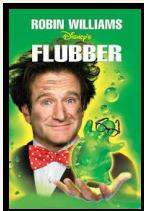

We need entries! If your entry is picked, you will earn 10 SURF tickets.

Movie of the Week

Vega Figarola/Vivian Liu

It's Flubber!

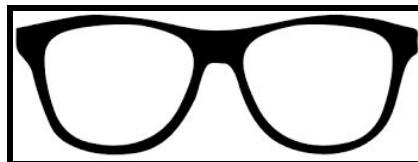

Flubber is an old school movie starring Robin Williams, who also starred in Aladdin! Robin plays Professor Philip Brainard. He created this weird rubber thing that his robot names "flying rubber." So, Flubber became the name. The rubber looks like a pet slime. This invention had caused mayhem in homes.

Guess The Character?

Joey Achamizo/Shannon Powers

Last week's character was Rudolph the Red-nosed Reindeer! Without this girl, her crime-solving squad would not operate. This character is the daughter of the parents who own Crystal Cove Mystery Museum. An orange outfit may be out of style, but this curious nerd rocks it the best. A famous saying from her is, "My glasses, I can't find my glasses." "I can't see without my glasses."

Do you know who it is? Go to our website and submit your guess!

A long time ago a huge crater ((about the size of Paris)) crashed into what we now called Greenland. Scientists do not know how or when this crater came down. They believe it came down between 117,000-2.6 million years ago. Scientists don't know the cause. The impact it made could have made severe environmental damage.

Craters are created by a meteorite or an explosion.

Science Jokes

Joey Achamizo

1. Q: Why do plants hate math?

A: Because it gives them square roots!

2. Q: Why don't magnets have mates?

A: Because they're polar opposites!

3. I made a chemistry joke, but there was no reaction.

4. Q: Where do astronauts leave their spaceships?

A: At parking meteors!

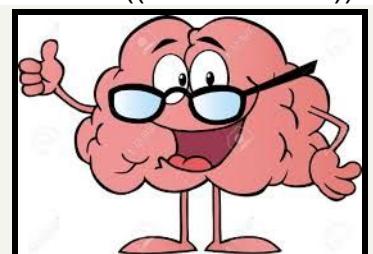

Fun Facts!

Vivian Liu

1. Your brain has about 100 billion nerve cells within it.

2. Your brain has more power and more complexity than any computer ever built.

3. The chance of you having the same fingerprint as someone else is 1 in 64 billion ((Dead or alive)).
